Developing a harmonic sustainable public procurement framework

Rodrigo Lozano\(^1,2\), Felippe Santos\(^1\)*, Maria Barreiro-Gen\(^1\),

\(^1\) Faculty of Engineering and Sustainable Development, University of Gävle, Kungsbackavägen 47, 80176, Gävle, Sweden, emails: rodrigo.lozano@hig.se; felippe.santos@hig.se and maria.barreiro@hig.se

\(^2\) Organisational Sustainability, Ltd. 128 City Road, EC1V 2NX, London, UK, email: roldozano@org-sustainability.com

* Correspondence: felippe.santos@hig.se

Vitae

Rodrigo Lozano is Full Professor of Organisational Sustainability University of Gävle, Sweden. He is Specialty Chief Editor of Frontiers in Organisations for Sustainability. He is a visiting professor at Central University of Technology, Bloemfontein, South Africa. For over twenty years Rodrigo has been working towards Sustainability in NGO’s, universities, and corporations. Rodrigo holds a BSc in Chemical Engineering from Monterrey Tec, Mexico; a MSc in Environmental Management and Policy, from Lund University, Sweden; and a PhD on organisational change management for Corporate Sustainability at Cardiff University, Cardiff, UK. Rodrigo is also the managing director of Organisational Sustainability Ltd. (www.org-sustainability.com).

Felippe Santos is a Ph.D. Scholar at the University of Gävle, Sweden, and an Early Stage Researcher at SAPIENS Network, as a Marie Sklodowska-Curie Fellow. He holds a B.Sc. in Political Science from the University of Brasilia, Brazil; and a M.B.A. in Public Management and a M.Sc. in Governance and Development from the National School of Public Administration, Brazil. He worked as a Brazilian civil servant for sixteen years, holding positions at the Ministry of Education, Regional Court Labour, Federal Public Defender’s Office, and Brazilian Hospital Services Company. His research has focused on public procurement, public management, governance, organisations, and sustainability.

Maria Barreiro-Gen is Associate Professor at the University of Gävle, Sweden. She has also worked as Assistant Professor in the University of A Coruña, Spain, and in the National Distance Education University (UNED). She holds a Bachelor in Business and a Bachelor in Law, a Master in Public Policies, and a PhD on Economics (graduated with honours). For more than ten years, she has been researching on public policies, sustainable organisations, economic development, gender issues, business and management, and education.